BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

BY BOUTELLE & BURR. BANGOR, ME., SATURDAY MORNING NOVEMBER, 20, 1875. VOLUME XLII---NUMBER 276.

BANGOR

Daily Whig and Courier.

PUBLISHED MORNINGS

At No. 1, East End Kenduskeag Bridge

BY

BOUTELLE & BURR.

F. A. BOUTELLE. DEXT. A. BURR.

TERMS—$8.00 per year, $4.00 for six months, $2.00 for three months. Invariably in advance.

THE BANGOR WEEKLY COURIER

IS PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY,

At the office of the DAILY WHIG AND COURIER, Two Dollars per Year, invariably in advance.

AGENCIES

S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., 10 State St., Boston, and 10 Park Row, New York are authorized Agents for receiving Advertisements and Subscriptions for this Paper.

S. R. NILES, Agent, No. 5 Fremont Street, Boston.

ALFRED ROWELL & CO., Agents, at Park Row, N. Y.

BLACK DOGG Agent, Boston.

EATON & LOCKE, Agents 34 Park Row, N. Y.

Subscriptions must in all cases be paid in advance.

The date affixed to the colored slips shows the time to which the subscription is paid. All papers are discontinued when the subscription expires.

Business Cards.

REMOVAL.

The subscriber to better accommodate his patrons has removed his Hair Cutting Shaving and Shampooing Rooms from the Chandler's Hair Dress Block to Store No. 3 Granite Block,

Directly opposite the old stand, and next door to J. F. Patten's Drug Store.

WITH COMPETENT ASSISTANTS he is prepared to attend to the wants of his friends in the manner and as many more as favor him by a call.

We shall make CHILDREN'S HAIR CUTTING a specialty, and ladies with children will find this place more easy of access and far less disagreeable than Barber shops are commonly found to be.

WALTER LEIGHTON.

Bangor, Oct. 16th, 1875. 1m

A. W. WEATHERBEE,

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW,

LINCOLN, MAINE

Legal business of all kinds promptly attended to. 42tf

FILES-------FILES.

NOW IS THE TIME to sharpen up and get ready for business. I have a fine lot of

1000 Dozen Files

and am finishing off 750 Dozen per week, which I am selling at

The Lowest Prices,

and I will warrant them equal to any imported or sold at these prices.

Old Files Re-Cut, as usual.

JOB COLLETT, - - - Exchange St.

Once More We Greet You!

GEO. I. WESCOTT,

DEALER IN

FLOUR, TEAS TOBACCO, GROCERIES,

Flour, Bags and Country produce of all kinds.

Having removed to 17 Pickering Square and 35 Exchange Street, I invite my friends and the public to call and see me. With a FRESH STOCK OF GOODS, and low for cash, I hope to receive a share of public patronage. Kerosene received, and for sale at the lowest market price. Thankful for past favors I would solicit a continuance of the same. Kerosene received, and for sale at the lowest market price. Thankful for past favors I would solicit a continuance of the same.

Address GEO. I. WESCOTT, 17 Pickering Square, Boston, Mass.

Ho, for the Black Hills!

Trunks, Bags, &c.,

That will hold the gold

J. F. PARKHURST,

95 Main Street, Manufacturer

MELVILLE M. WESTON,

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

53 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Cotchell & Leighton,

HOUSE AND SHIP

PLUMBERS,

29 Central St., Bangor.

Plumbing of all kinds done to order, and a large assortment of Plumbing Materials constantly on hand.

Particular attention paid to TIN ROOFING and JOBBING. feb4

AMERICAN ENAMEL CO'S

PATENT WROUGHT IRON

Enameled WATER PIPE.

This pipe is enameled under great heat, both inside and out, which gives it a hard, religious surface, to prevent it from rust or corrosion. S. Dana Hayes, State Assayer and Chemist for the State of Massachusetts says "I commenced the inspection with some doubts about your Enameled Pipe, but the severe tests which I have employed proves that it is perfectly harmless, and possesses great durability, these being the properties of most importance in water pipes."

All sizes of the 4 and 6 inch pipe and fittings constantly on hand, and for sale at lowest Market prices.

HINCKLEY & EGERY IRON COMPANY,

Oak Street, Bangor, Maine.

Oct. 9, 1875.

Price, Twenty five Cents

Newspaper Advertising.

NINETY NINTH EDITION.

Containing a complete list, of all the towns in the United States, the Territories and the Dominion of Canada, having a population greater than 1000 according to the last census, together with the names of the newspapers having the largest local circulation in each of the places named. Also a Catalogue of newspapers which are recommended by advertisers as giving greatest value in proportion to prices charged. All newspapers in the United States and Canada omitting from this catalogue such issues. Also, all the Religious, Agricultural, Scientific and Medical Journals, Magazines, Journals, Reviews, Educational, Commercial, Financial, Law, Literary, Musical, Masonic, Odd Fellows, or special class journals, very complete lists, together with a complete list of Newspapers published in Cities of 20,000 population and over, and everything which a beginner in advertising would like to know.

Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. 41 Park Row, New York.

CLOTHES WRINGERS

W. H. PRINGHAM.

CLOAKS, CLOAKS.

E. C. Nichols & Co.

Have just received an Elegant Line of

NEW CLOAKS,

From Five to Twenty-five Dollars!

Comprising all the New and Novel styles of the season. Also a new lot of Reversible Velvet Shawls, New Worsted Plaids for Suits, in Gray, Brown, Navy Blue and Black.

Everything New---Store Full, and Goods Selling Cheap. Come and See.

E. C. NICHOLS & CO.,

No. 9 Main Street.

oct18

CLOAK ROOM OPENED!

At No. 11 Main St.

LATEST STYLES & LOWEST PRICES.

Cloaks made to Measure at Short Notice.

New Cloaks from $4.50 to $30.00.

Come and see the Bargains at

SNOW & MAYO,

BANGOR.

nov8 dtw

EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL!

GUARANTEEING PURCHASERS

AGAINST MISTAKES, FALSE REPRESENTATIONS, UNDERSTANDINGS.

A Plan by which All Parties,

Old or Young, Rich or Poor, are benefited, and Dissatisfaction with Price or Purchase rendered Impossible.

CASH THROUGHOUT!

We Buy for Cash and Sell for Cash Only, thereby avoiding any bad debts. Houses doing a credit business must provide for BADDEBTS, INTEREST ON LONG-STANDING ACCOUNTS, CAPITAL LOCKED UP &c. To bear this themselves would drive them out of business. Therefore a percentage is added to the price of each article sold to cover the leakage, and CASH BUYERS, whether they KNOW IT OR NOT, REALLY PAY THE BAD DEBTS AND THE INTEREST ON THE LONG CREDIT OF OTHER CUSTOMERS.

A CASH BASIS

puts plenty of money into our hands, and enables us to buy goods at figures that credit men know nothing about, and thereby leads to

CHEAPNESS.

By a typographical error our printers made it read in our last advertisement that we bought our clothes of the Mills &c. It should have read cloth, not "clothes." WHO EVER HEARD OF BUYING CLOTHING OF A MILL! Our PENNY COMPETITORS, more familiar with PEGGING BOOTS than with manufacturing clothing, has seen proper to so misconstrue our advertisement, and by the aid of some PETTIFOGGING LAWYER, made a great spread of what they claim to be misrepresentations. SUCH BRILLIANT MINDS SHOULD NEVER REMAIN IN BANGOR. GO WEST YOUNG MEN, GO WEST!

FACTS, NOT FANCIES.

Our travelling agent formerly sold clothing at wholesale to Bangor merchants. They all well know that we not only are one of the LARGEST CLOTHING MANUFACTORIES in the UNITED STATES, but that we get up the

Latest and Most Fashionable Assortment of

MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING,

To be found in This Country.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

is now offered to the citizens of Bangor and vicinity to purchase the most ARTISTIC CUT, THE BEST MADE AND MOST PERFECT FITTING garments in this State, at prices

Way Below any Ex-Cobblers.

By manufacturing our own clothing we can afford to sell $15.00 Overcoats for $11.00; $6.50 ALL WOOL Pants for $3.50; Vermont Grey Ulsters for $9.50, an entire suit for $6.50, Flannel-lined Reefers for $4.50; Children's Suits for $3.00 and $3.50; and hundreds of other goods at equally LOW PRICES.

And Convince Yourselves of the Truth.

J. B. FOSS & CO.,

The Great Clothiers.

6 WEST MARKET SQUARE.

Formerly the China Tea Store.

SANFORD'S INDEPENDENT LINE,

BETWEEN

Bangor, Boston and Lowell.

Four Trips per Week,

FARE ONLY $3.00!

Capt. J. P. JOHNSON. Capt. W. P. HALL.

Real Estate.

FOR RENT.

The House at Junction of Summer and Main streets will be rented low to a good tenant. Apply to HENRY McLAUGHLIN.

House for Sale.

A new, two story House, on Wilson street Hoyt, within five minutes walk of bridge on Brewer. 12 rooms. Lot 42x100. Will exchange for small farm. Inquire of W. P. BURR, Kenduskeag Square.

Brewer, Nov 11, '75 1w

Houses for Rent.

A convenient house, in fine order, just thoroughly repaired, situated on Essex St. Also, a convenient and well located House on Broadway. For rent low to the right tenant. GEO. W. LADD, Phenix Block

TO LET.

The cosey house No. 90 Harlow St., now occupied by the subscriber. Everything in excellent condition, and possession given immediately.

WM. D MCLAUGHLIN.

VILLAGE FARM,

1-4 Mile from B. & E. Depot. About 25 acres choice land, with good buildings, 4 miles from Bangor, near the most flourishing manufacturing establishment in the county, for sale very low. Half cash.

at CHAMBERLAIN'S.

Oct 14, 1875. dtf

For Rent.

A small tenement, No. 108 Center St. Possession given immediately. Inquire of A. W. Rich, on the premises, or of the subscriber, No. 200 Ohio St.

J. S. BOBEN

For Sale.

The Hotel Stand known as the "Castine House," situated on Water street, in the business centre of the beautiful village of Castine, is offered for sale on reasonable terms. The lot is large and the buildings well arranged for a hotel or boarding house. The location is one of the finest in the village, being near the Steamboat landing, and commanding a fine view of the harbor and surrounding scenery.

The growing importance of Castine as a summer resort renders this property exceedingly desirable at the present time.

For further particulars address

L. G. PHILBROOK.

Castine, Oct. 22, 1875 TuThdaw oct23

For Sale or Rent.

One undivided half of a Shingle and Clapboard Mill, situated at the Double Dam of Great Works Stream in Bradley, known as the Partridge & Clark Mill. Apply to

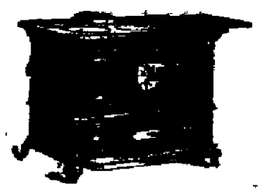
C. G. AIKEN, 120 Exchange Street

oct8 d3m

For Sale.

House No. 5, David Street, lot 60 by 1 1-4. Price $2000. If not sold, will make a short time, part of the house will be rented to a small family. japd

BARSTOW'S



PATENT,

For Beauty of Design, Economy, Convenience and Durability, stands without a rival. It is adapted for WOOD OR COAL.

Has Clinkerless Grate, Illuminated Fire Pot, (Broiler Door) and Patent Shelf Attachment—Also Low Copper Reservoir

CALL AND SEE IT AT

ALBERT NOYES & CO'S, oct18 BANGOR.

NEW ROOM PAPERS.

For the Fall Trade.

A large lot of New and Desirable Patterns received to-day and for sale Cheap.

CHAS. HIGHT,

oct21 2 Smith Block.

USE THE BEST!

Hall, Bradley & Co.'s

CELEBRATED PURE

WHITE LEAD,

AND

French White Zinc,

At Lowest Prices.

Frank M. Rowe,

121 EXCHANGE STREET,

Sole Agent for Eastern Maine.

marll

THE CRESCENT

Spectacles & Eye-Glasses,

NEW STOCK,

Gold, Steel and Rubber Frames,

Just Received.

Solid Gold Jewelry made to order. Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired. Engraving neatly executed

DAVID WHITE,

No 1 Kenduskeag Bridge.

nov10

BOYNTON'S REVIEW OF SHERMAN.

Sherman's Historical Raid in the light of the record. The Memoirs in the

For sale by D. BUGBEE & CO.

nov8

To the Protestant Clergy of America.

The True "Christian Religion," "Heaven and Hell," and "Apocalypse Revealed," by Emanuel Swedenborg, are offered gratuitously to the Protestant clergy of this country, the postage only being required of the persons applying for the books. Ministers desiring to receive either or all these works by mail, will please send their orders to J. S. LEIGHTON & CO., Publishers, 715 and 717 Market St. Philadelphia, Pa., enclosing their card, which will be kept central for "True Christian Religion," twenty cents; cards for "Heaven and Hell" and thirty six cents for "Apocalypse Revealed."

nov13 eb

VITRIFIED

WATER, SEWER, AND DRAIN PIPE,

SEMI-GLAZED SHELL, SILICATE COATED

Manufactured from the best of Pipe Clays, in two first kinds, with Sockets, and three feet lengths with rims. Warranted IMPERVIOUS to and INDESTRUCTIBLE by the most powerful Acids and Gases. For sale in every variety or quantity. Prices list furnished on application

M. LEIGHTON,

may7 6m Exchange, Cor York

Sufferers with Cancer.

Why do you allow that fearful disease to fasten you to an untimely grave, when by application to S. W. TIBBETS & SON, of Pittsfield, Maine, you can have it removed without the use of knife or caustic. Scores are already rejoicing in their escape from the very jaws of death, by virtue of their treatment, which is by application of a plaster. If you doubt this statement, make inquiries for yourself, of Mrs Mary Foster, Palmyra, Mrs John Fletcher, Litchfield, Mrs. Orlon Wilkins, Dunham, Mr C W Smith, Lincoln, Mrs. Ann Varney, Newburg, Mrs Sarah C. Hodgkins, Farmington, Mrs. Rhoda Smith, Hallowell, Me., Mrs Martha A. Watson, Princeton, Franklin Co., Maine, Mrs. Augustus J. Bloom, Bath, Me. These and scores other thirty others whose names will be given if desired, have been cured within the past year. In no case the cancers have varied from twenty to thirty inches in circumference. The case of Mrs. Bloom of Bath was remarkable in its size (nearly five inches in circumference) and in its attachment to the bone from its Antagonism. For further information apply to S. W. TIBBETS & SON, Pittsfield.

oct18 3w

APPLES! APPLES!

100 BARRELS

NEW YORK WINTER APPLES.

Just received and for sale by

FRED T. HALL & CO.,

nov15 30 Commercial Street.

RAG MONEY

Pays for this advertisement, and will also pay for any articles of Jewelry you wish made or repaired, and you will be satisfied with joy at the nice manner in which the work is done, at

EBEN STEVENS',

nov9 36 Hammond St., Bangor, Me. (Opp Congl House.)

Good Things!

Harlow's Cough Syrup, the best kind in use.

Harlow's Extract Jamaica Ginger

Harlow's Wine of Beef and Iron.

Harlow's Cod Liver Oil and Lime

Harlow's Elixir Valerianate of Ammonia, for nervous people.

Harlow's Rock Bitters.

Harlow's Pulmoline for the Hair.

Harlow's Tooth Powder.

Harlow's Colognes and other Perfumes.

4 Smith Block---N. S. HARLOW.

nov8

J. S. Law Directory,

For Sale by Stationers. Pay only by nov18 F. A. B. & G. S. JOHNSON.

SAW, MACHINERY & MILL SUPPLIES

I received behind Union I want to Exchange for mercantile paper, Cheese, Cod and Pollock Oil, Cod Liver Oil and Lime Juice, Cheese, Butter, Eggs, Lard, Hams, Tallow, Potatoes, Onions, Apples, Pears, Cranberries, Pickles, Canned Goods, Fish of all kinds, Flour, Meal, Pork, Beans, Sugar, Molasses, Syrup, Tea, Coffee, Tobacco, Soap, Starch, Candles, Saleratus, Saltpeter, Sal Soda, Rice, Cracker, Cheese, Fish, Oil

Whig and Courier.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

G. A. BOUTELLE, Boston.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed to "Editor of Whig and Courier."

SATURDAY, Nov. 20, 1875.

NOT SO!

The Springfield Republican knowingly misstates when it states that Mr. Blaine has remained quiet on the financial question during the past campaign. The Boston Journal calls attention to the fact that Mr. Blaine wrote a very square-edged letter on the question to the Ohio Committee in response to an invitation to speak in that State. During the Maine campaign Mr. Blaine spoke in more than half the counties in the State on the financial question, and even so Hard-Money an organ as the N. Y. Tribune took occasion to commend editorially Mr. Blaine's speech on the finances at Portland the last week of the campaign. All of which, though well known to the editor of the Republican, he deliberately, and we fear maliciously, misrepresents.

Not long ago, when the Democratic organs were uniting in a general and very virtuous denunciation of "salary-grabbers," a suggestion that Sam Randall and Fernando Wood, two of the conspicuous champions of the back pay bill, would so in present themselves as candidates for the speakership, was met by the Argus, Standard and Commercial with rash words of disrespect for those statesmen and brave assertions that "salary-grabbers" must take back seats. The time for taking medicine has nearly arrived, however, and the organists are preparing to gulp down with smiles whatever may be administered from the party spoon. The Commercial, trembling for fear that its ungraded expressions of disrespect may have caught the eye of some friend of the future Speaker, devotes an editorial to the earnest for that office, which it says is "really the most important in the country next to that of President," and when it comes to name the great Reformers who are likely to be placed in that exalted station, lo! not Ben Athern's but Phernandiwud's, leads all the rest! And next on its brief list of the statesmen from whom the great Reform Democracy is to select the incumbent of next to the most important office in the country," the Commercial very respectfully and deferentially presents the name of Sam Randall, whom it has so frequently denounced as a Protectionist trickster, a trading demagogue and a "salary-grabber." Under the altered aspect of the situation the Commercial now finds Mr. Randall "an exceedingly skilful parliamentarian," a man of "consummate tact and ability," and concludes that if the estimates of his support are correct "he will of course receive the nomination." The organ rises to still a higher flight in eulogy of the notorious manager of the 4-11-44 policy-shops of New York city, saluting him as "one of the most accomplished gentlemen in the United States," and performing with the assertion that "if elected he will adorn the high office as it has not been adorned since the days of Polk and Clay!" If the Democratic managers have any further test to apply to the swallowing capacity of their Bangor organist, they can pass it along.

A NEW YORK SCANDAL. The latest scandal in New York society has been created by Judge Van Brunt, of the Supreme Court, in procuring a divorce from his wife by confessing to her his adultery and then marrying his paramour in direct violation of the decree of his own court granting him first wife her divorce. The decree, which has been promulgated, prohibits the lodlee from marrying prior to the death of the libellant, and grants alimony of $4,000 per annum. Van Brunt married his partner in guilt immediately after the divorce, in Europe where they now are, and the New York journals and members of the Bar, are very naturally observing, that such a person is hardly calculated to adorn the Bench. The Tribune says he will probably resign and remarks that "the lamentable business loses the Bench one of its ablest members and sets a shocking example of profligate defiance to its authority."

The N. Y. Herald says: "Tweed's lawyers fight for every inch of ground. Their present contest arises on an interpretation of the decision given by the Court of Appeals. As that Court decided that only one penalty could be inflicted, it decided thereby that there was only one cause of action. And as the culprit has been once tried on that cause he claims his constitutional immunity from further molestation."

Bishop Whipple of Minnesota, in a letter to President Grant says that notwithstanding all the clamors which have been made, the President's peace policy towards the Indians has been a success, and that thousands of them are learning to live as civilized men, and among them are some as true Christians as can be found among the whites.

Now the Washington specials inform us that "Secretary Chandler authorizes an explicit denial of the widely spread published assertions that he has made or is making removals in the Interior Department for failures to contribute to campaign funds, etc."

The Commercial attributes to Governor Hartranft of Pennsylvania the remark made by Governor Hayes of Ohio regarding "a political hereafter." This is about as near as that paper generally hits.

THE LOUISIANA SUGAR CROP. The New Orleans Times of the 12th inst. says:

It was found a month ago by those who turned the first wheels that the case was yielding poorly and bad reports were sent off in relation to the sugar prospect of this year. Now the mills are all grinding and the smoke from the bagasse furnaces, boiler stacks and sugar-house chimneys may be seen night and day all over the sugar region of Louisiana. The next two months will be busy months in this section. We are happy to state that the yield is not only satisfactory but in many cases surpasses expectation. The yield last year was equal to the best days before the war. In parts of St. Mary's parish, three and even four hogsheads were made to the acre, and we learn that as good, or better, crops are in that region this year. The weather has indeed been most favorable for sugar, and the sugar interests of the South are looking up.

FASHIONABLE WALKERS. It is remarked of many of the members of the diplomatic corps that they set Americans a good example in taking a large amount of exercise in walking. The German Minister, Baron Schloezer, is an eminent pedestrian, beginning his rambles about as soon as the daylight is strong enough, and always walking with great rapidity. A few days since I saw Sir Edward Thornton and his daughters beyond the city limits. Count Borgos, the Brazilian Minister's hand upon his wife, often dishelves her carriage and makes her walk, preferring the healthful exercise of walking.—Washington Letter.

THE CUBAN FLURRY.

[From the N. Y. Tribune, 2nd.]

The excitement in the London newspaper offices over supposed diplomatic complications between Spain and the United States is traceable partly to a correspondent of the London Times, who telegraphed on the 1st of November a version of reports then current in this country so strangely distorted and magnified that we hardly recognize it when it comes back across the ocean. According to this correspondent, the United States Government had just acknowledged that a note on Cuban affairs had been sent to Madrid last September, and a summary of its contents, purporting to be official, was then appended. "The delay of the Spanish Cabinet in answering the note," continues the Times despatch, "causes restlessness at Washington, and extensive preparations are being made to strengthen the Navy; eight sloops of war are being got ready at different yards; at least ten iron-clads at League Island are ready for sea, though work has not been begun on them." The reported reinforcement of the Spanish fleet in the West Indies was said to "add to the sensation;" and Reuter's Agency completed the picture of confusion and alarm by telegraphing that Gen. Grant had increased the North Atlantic squadron.

Some of these erroneous statements were at once discredited, but when the last mail left England, four days after the publication of the despatch in the Times, London was still ignorant that the supposed American note is merely a garbled or less garbled summary of Mr. Cushing's original memorandum of instructions, published at least a year ago; that our Government has not addressed and sending a note to Madrid last September, and has not put forth this memorandum as the substance of it; that there is no "restlessness" at Washington except in the Cuban Bond Ring; that the work of getting ready eight sloops of war has been going on for more than a year; that the iron-clads laid up at League Island are all safe and quiet, and likely to remain so; that the North Atlantic squadron has not been strengthened; and that there has been no sensation on this side of the Atlantic whatever may have happened on the other. The Saturday Review calls the supposed note "a clap of thunder in a clear sky," and wonders whether it is not a discreditable trick of the President's to make popularity on the eve of an election. The Times reiterates its original blunder, and treats the partial corrections sent from Madrid as characteristically disingenuous attempts of the Spaniards to minimize the importance of troublesome communications. The amiable Standard, beginning to suspect the story, goes so far as not only to charge Gen. Grant of putting forth a lie for campaign purposes, but of covering it so adroitly that those who made use of it could not fix upon him the responsibility of its manufacture.

There is no doubt that Mr. Cushing has been corresponding with the Madrid Government on the affairs of Cuba; probably he has done so pretty steadily ever since his appointment. The rights of American citizens on Spanish territory are not protected, and it is absurd to suppose that any Administration would venture to let this important subject drop. But there is no reason to suppose that we are in danger of war for the benefit of a little clique of pestilent speculators.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The N. Y. Tribune says: "The large amount of money staked on a plurality for Bigelow of more than 15,000 is in all probability lost, to say nothing of the anxiety, loss of sleep, etc., which has gone with it."

Congressman Holman has announced that he is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Indiana next year. His withdrawal is thought to make ex-Congressman N black the most probable candidate, although Gen. Benjamin Harrison has very strong backing.

After all the preparations made for his reception, the statement that the German Crown Prince proposed visiting the United States is denied by the Reuter Telegram Company. The Company says he never intended making the trip.

The Chicago Times thus characterizes the average Democrat: "He is politically the stupidest thing on the planet, and must conform to the requirements of his stupidity. Incapable of bringing himself forward to the living present, he will continue to vote for the dead and buried Democratic party, and to expect the mountain to open and release from his sepulchre of ages the rock-rooted Democratic Barbarossa."

The Herald calls on the Legislature to repeal the charter of Tammany so effectually that this monstrous system will no longer be part of the Democratic party of the country to bring shame and discredit and misfortune upon our city and the property of the people."

Mr. Andrew Green has written a letter on Mr. Fitz John Porter in connection with that gentleman's position in the department of public works of the city of New York, in which he pretty conclusively shows that Mr. Porter is guilty of negligence, incapacity and utter unfitness for the discharge of his duties. The letter is as fatal to Porter's civic reputation as was the report of the court martial to his military repute.—Portland Press.

Gov. Seymour has been approached, since election, with the suggestion of becoming again the bright particular representative of the New York Democracy, and Gov. Seymour blandly smiles. Mr. Tilden remains his Governor, and will receive the outward show which belongs to the executive; but, so far as future leadership is concerned, he is out of the question. The recent election was his political death-knell. Henceforth he is only an empty figure-head. The organization of the New York Democracy is already shaping itself in another direction.—Albany Evening Journal.

Mr. MOODY'S STYLE OF EXHORTATION. At one of the recent revival meetings in the Brooklyn Rink, Mr. Moody discussed the excuses which are offered for the postponing of conversion. Towards the close of the service he began to warm up to his work, and leaning over the railing of the pulpit box, with his hand waving nervously to and fro in the air, shouted:

"If I broke up all the excuses in the world Satan would invent new ones. They are all refuges of lies. Let Death shake his finger in your faces to-night, and where would your excuses be? Your soul won't get fat on excuses, and the kingdom will be farther away the more of them you invent. Make this thing a personal matter. 'Suppose now,' continued the speaker, taking a pencil and paper from his pocket, 'this document was drawn up for you to sign.' I will read it:

"While in the Rink, November 16, 1875, I received an invitation from the servants of the Master to be present at the marriage supper of his Son in Heaven. I beg to be excused. (Signed)

M. OF N.

"Now, how many of you would sign this? Not a solitary one of you. You dare not. Now suppose this letter should be handed around for your signatures:

"While in the Rink, November 16, 1875, I have received a pressing invitation from the servants of the Master to be present at the wedding supper of his Son. By the grace of God I will be there.

(Signed) M. OF N.

"You would all sign it, I think. And yet you will go out of here to-night laughing and scoffing at what you have heard. I pray to God you may accept the invitation sincerely to-night."

The service ended with prayer by Mr. Moody.

A promising young shaver of five or six years was reading his lessons at school one day in that deliberate manner for which orphans of that age are somewhat remarkable. As he proceeded with the text, his eyes upon the passage, "Keep my feet from evil and lay me from gentle," Mr. Bigelow drawled out, "Keep my feet from evil and lay me from gentle."

Special Notices.

Dancing Notice.

The Ladies' Select Class will meet at Mythic Hall, MONDAY, Nov. 22d, at 4 o'clock P. M.

M. H. ANDREWS.

nov20 6n

WANTED.

A Winter School by a young man of experience in teaching. Best of reference given.

Address P., Whig Office.

nov17

Rubber Boots as

A NEW THING! A GOOD THING! Call and see them, at

J. E. CHAPMAN & CO'S,

The One Price Clothiers.

nov17 3n 1w

FOR A SATISFACTORY SMOKE,

GET

The ALLIGATOR CIGAR

3 for 25 cents,

Warranted the best cigar for the money.

AT BUTLER'S DRUG STORE.

nov15 3n

J. F. BABCOCK, D. D. S.,

Graduate Penn'a College Dental Surgery,

Surgeon Dentist.

OFFICE IN KENDUSKEAG BLOCK.

Office Hours from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Dr. B. makes a specialty of Operative Dentistry and Oral Surgery. Inserting Gas, Ether or Chloroform administered in severe operations.

Teeth filled with any material preferred and with special care to most unsightly teeth. Every operation shall give the utmost satisfaction, and at the lowest price consistent with the character of only the best work possible. Aching teeth immediately relieved, and tooth saved from a painful extraction. nov15tfw

CONSOLIDATED

European & No. American Railway.

B. E. SMITH, Trustee.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT, 1875.

On and after MONDAY, Nov. 12th, Express train leaves Bangor (Exchange street) for St. John at 7.50 A.M.

Trains leave Bangor for Oldtown at 7.50 and 11.40 A. M., and 5.00 and 6.20 P. M.

Trains leave Bangor for Athens (B. & P. R. R.) at 7.50 A. M.

Bangor for Bucksport, 5.00 A. M. and 5.30 P. M.

Oldtown for Bangor, 7.00 and 11.45 A. M., and 5.00, and 6.40 P. M.

Athens for Bangor, at 1.30 P. M.

Buckspurt for Bangor, 6.10 A. M., 3.30 P. M.

Buckspurt for Bangor, 8.35 A. M. and 1.05 P. M.

Express trains connect at McAdam Junction with N. B. & C. Railway, and at Fredericton Junction with trains to and from Fredericton.

F. W. CRAM, Supt.

Bangor, Nov 10, 1875.

DR. SIMMONS

HAS REMOVED TO

No. 14 High Street,

Office 4 and 6 Kenduskeag Block.

nov19 3n 1f

HOME MANUFACTURE,

AND ALL HAND WORK,

Not surpassed by any manufacture in New England

Ladies and Gents' Boots of every decsr ption.

EVERYBODY IN BANGOR KNOWS THE HERSEY BOOT.

Tender feet and bad joints cured by one trial of our Boots.

Ladies' French Kid and Serge Boots made to measure—a perfect fit guaranteed

REMEMBER our work is all made by HAND.

THOMAS HERSEY,

Pickering Block, Main St.

oct29 6m

LADIES' FURS

Made and Repaired by Miss Elizabeth Wyer, 49 Grove St.

My long experience in the business enables me to do this work so as to give perfect satisfaction. Ladies' and Gentlemen's Fur Gloves and Caps made and repaired. All Fur cuts in the most fashionable and workmanlike manner, at reasonable prices. oct27 3m

LEA & PERRINS'

is the only GENUINE

WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.

WE GUARANTEE

THE BEST

Pianos, Organs and Melodeons, in the market at lower prices and on easier terms than can be bought of any other parties.

Purchasers should have these facts before buying, as it is too late to compare prices or goods after you buy.

PATTEN & WHEELDEN,

Main Street, Bangor, Maine.

Bangor, Feb. 11, 1875. dawtf

Notice.

Ladies and Gentlemen desiring to form a PRIVATE CLASS for SIX EVENINGS, in WALTZING, will confer a favor by leaving their address at MYTHIC HALL, at their earliest opportunity.

Class to commence within two weeks.

nov9 3n M. H. ANDREWS.

CARD.

Mr. THEO. WACHTENDAHL, (formerly manager of Germania Mat. Band, Boston), will receive Pupils in Music, both Vocal and Instrumental, and Harmony. Also, German and French. Terms moderate. Orders left at S. Davenport's or No. 7 Amity st., will be promptly attended to. nov19 3m

INSIDE LINE!

THREE TRIPS PER WEEK.

Bangor to Portland, Boston, Lawrence and Lowell.

Steamer CITY OF RICHMOND, Capt. KILBY, Master, will leave Bangor for Portland every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, at 9 o'clock, touching at all the usual landings on the River and Bay. Tickets sold through to Boston, Lawrence and Lowell.

Owing to the withdrawal of the 6 o'clock P. M. Steamboat Express Train, passengers will find it convenient to take the trains following the arrival of the Boat at Portland.

Returning.—The cars leave Boston at 8 o'clock P. M. over both the Boston and Maine and Eastern Railroads, connecting with the Steamer City of Richmond which leaves Railroad Wharf foot of State St., Portland, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, evenings at ten o'clock.

Steamer City of Richmond will connect (going West) with the Portland and Boston Railroad which leaves Portland at 7 o'clock P. M., arriving in Boston at 5 o'clock next morning. Tickets sold to connect the "Eleven o'clock over the Portland and Rochester Railroad to Nashua, Worcester, Providence, Norwich, Springfield, Albany, Hartford, New Haven and New York. Also all stations between Portland and Worcester. Baggage checked through.

F. P. KENDRICK, Agent.

Bangor, Sept. 27, 1875. dtf

WM. FRANKLIN BEAVEY,

ATTORNEY at LAW

AND

Solicitor of Patents,

Rines' New Block, No. 17 Main Street, Bangor, Me.

Bangor, Oct. 30, 1875. MFW

Stop that Cough.

My pulmonary complaint however obstinate, can yield the healing influence of DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS and MORSE'S INDIAN WINE, for they we have never seen one so perfectly efficacious in coughs, colds, consumption, bronchitis, asthma and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, leading to consumption. It is a certain cure for Whooping Cough and Croup. Sold by druggists and Indian agents. Cough syrup, 25 cents. Cough wafers, 25 cents. Cough and Lung Balsam, 50 cents. Cough Wafers, 25 cents. Cough Balsam, 50 cents. Cough syrup, 25 cents. Cough

Fair and Courier.

SATURDAY, NOV. 20, 1875.

BY TELEGRAPH.

MAINE NEWS.

FROM PORTLAND

The Barbers

PORTLAND, Nov. 19. Judge Knights has instructed the City Marshal to present all cases of barbers keeping open Sundays.

The Examination of Clement Closed

The examination of Mr Clement in the Bank of Portland matter was closed this afternoon without eliciting any thing new

Lecty Dedicated

The Pine street Methodist church, dedicated their vestry, just completed, this afternoon with interesting exercises and an address of a large audience

Jewely Recovered.

The balance of the jewelry snatched at the wreck of Womble & Reeves Biddeford Nov 15 was recovered here to-day

FROM CANDEN

A Shattered Arm

CAMDEN Nov 18 Charles Bard a weaver in the woolen manufactory in this town had his arm badly shattered by being caught in the machinery this afternoon. Amputation is supposed to be fatal.

FROM GARDINER.

Shocking Accident.

GARDINER Nov 18 N O Mitchell an extensive lumber merchant of this city, while crossing the track just ahead of the 7 00 A M train from Augusta, was struck by the engine and thrown under the wheels. His right arm was crushed that amputation below the knee was necessary, and the operation was performed by Dr Hildreth Mr Mitchell was otherwise injured, but it is not thought dangerous. He is consequently one of the thrifty business men will not prove fatal.

FROM BATH

Ship Sold.

BATH, Nov 19. The new ship just launched by D O. Blaisdell of about 1300 tons has been purchased for $67,000 by John W Marr, for whom she is named, and others of this city and will be commanded by Capt Wm Morse.

$12.50
15.00
15.00
6.50
10.00
7.00
11.00
7.00

FROM AUGUSTA.

The Governor and Council.

AUGUSTA, Nov 19 The Governor and Council have adjourned to Nov 30th The list of votes for senators shows one vacancy in the Penobscot district.

ARON WACHLAS.

Murderous Assault on Geo. W. Deakin, Esq

MACHIAS Nov 19 While superintending the surveying of a lot of land this afternoon Geo W Drisko, editor of the Machias Union was unprovokedly assaulted by one Johnson with an axe, making a wound though not fatal wound Johnson was arrested at East Machias this evening and lodged in Machias jail.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

NEW YORK CITY.

The Burning of the Steamer D. S Martin.

NEW YORK Nov 19. The passengers and crew of the D S Martin which was burned in East river yesterday afternoon had a very narrow escape She was run ashore as fast as her trip from New York and was run ashore in shoal water where only small row boats could land. Fortunately all the passengers were safely rescued by the small boats her captain being the last one to leave the pilot house fell in only half an hour after

An Importers Clique.

It is stated that a clique of importers of tea has secured a large amount of the commodity and proposes if possible to have the duty on it restored and thus make a profit of three millions on coffee which it is now sold

NEW YORK STATE.

Hanged.

ROCHESTER, Nov 19 John Clark the murderer of John Dever was hanged in the jail yard here at 9 30 o'clock this morning He said he had not had a fair trial and made no confession of past crimes

MARYLAND

Mr Wallis Letter to Gen Groome

BALTIMORE Nov 19 In his letter notifying Gen Groome that he contests the election of Charles J V Gieen as Attorney General of this State, Mr. Wallis says I especially insist that the election in the city of Baltimore was rendered wholly void by fraud, intimidation and violence, that the returns of the city cannot have to be counted.

WASHINGTON.

The Warm Spring Indians' Baggage Seized for Board.

WASHINGTON, Nov 19 The baggage of several Warm Spring Indians has been seized by a hotel keeper for board which the Indian Commissioner refused to pay as he went to another hotel than he recommended. He however will give them railroad tickets home and a blanket each if they leave the city this afternoon

Customs Receipts.

From July 1st to October 31st there was a falling off in customs receipts probably to the extent of $3 000,000 as compared with the corresponding months of last year, but this month the receipts are much larger than the first nineteen days of November, 1874 The Internal Revenue reports show an increase for July, August, September and October of this year as compared with last year of $2,400,199. It is expected that the increase for November will be a million and a half. The increased receipts from the increased tax on distilled spirits from 70 to 90 cents a gallon have not been as large as anticipated but there has been an increase of receipts from tobacco and snuff owing to a change of tax from 20 to 24 cents per pound.

No Reference to Spain or Cuba.

It is said in naval circles that the repair and preparation of vessels have no more reference to Spanish affairs than to those of any other country. There is no excitement here concerning Spain or Cuba The President some time ago while conversing on Cuban affairs merely referred to what he heretofore said in his annual messages, but gave no intimation as to what he should say on the same subject in his next message to Congress.

THE INDIANS.

Complaints against the Sioux

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Nov. 19. The settlers in the west are still complaining of the Sioux Indians, and say unless they are protected from Indian outrages, it will be impossible to remain Navigation of the Red river has closed

PENNSYLVANIA.

War Vessels Getting Ready for Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. A Philadelphia special says that two sloops of war there have been ordered to be sent to sea immediately These members have also been ordered to be sent to Norfolk to be got ready for sea. Other movements of naval vessels at Philadelphia for sea are yet going on.

IOWA.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

DUBUQUE, Nov. 19. A mill owned by the Iowa Lumber Co., three miles from this city was burned last night With 2,000,000 feet of lumber. Loss on mill, $30,000, and on lumber $40,000.

AFTER THE STOLEN CATTLE

TEXAS TROOPS ENTER MEXICO.

A Fight with Mexican Robbers.

The Texas State Troops Enter Mexico and Demand the Stolen Cattle.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 19. The following telegram was received at headquarters yesterday, from Fort Brown. Intelligence struck yesterday, that of the Cavazos, a trail of 300 stolen cattle, the following is the Rio Grande crossing, and the thieves on the Mexican side hauling them out. A demand was made by him on the Mexican authorities to surrender the cattle or the thieves. If not complied with this forenoon, he was to cross over into Mexico and recover them. Maj. Giindman has gone to assist him with all the available troops from Ringgold Barracks. Maj. Al exander has just started with two companies from Los Cuevos and made a demand on Col. Christable for the restoration of the cattle and thieves at Ringgold Barracks this forenoon.

(Signed) POTTER, Commanding.

Loop—McNally Enters Mexico and has a Fight with the Mexicans.

McNally crossed into Mexico this forenoon and had a fight with 400 Mexicans, part regulars. Four Mexicans were killed The United states troops are ordered not to cross into Mexico, McNally commanding State troops only

THE WHISKEY FRAUDS.

Damaging Testimony Against Joyce.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19. In the McDonald trial yesterday W. R. Jewett was called and testified W is superintendent of Chouteau distillery in 1873 and '74 and then went into the distillery for himself. His testimony was generally similar to the others who preceded him. He made crooked whiskey, was in the Ring, and paid money to different parties for the Ring

Rome Teasdale testified that he was engaged in distilling from Feb. 13th until the general seizure in May last, talked with Joyce about making crooked whiskey, who told him to make thirty or forty barrels weekly for the Ring

A N Batton, agent of Bingham Bros, testified that one distillery was run straight part of the time, and part of the time crooked; talked with Joyce about money, and paid him in all from $300 to $1200 per week. The amount kept increasing until Bingham shut down, we couldn't stand it and closed some time before the seizure Have received notice from Joyce of the coming of agents to examine the distillery. Joyce claimed to have letters from Babcock He also read parts of letters from the Treasury and Revenue Departments. Have seen letters signed by Avery Holt and Rogers His object was to show me the thing was understood at headquarters.

John O'Leary testified that he worked at Curran & Busbee's distillery. While at Busbee's Joyce, McDonald, McGuire and Fitzroy came there one with Col. Munn They took off the locks and went through the hope. Out found no crooked whisky; they came one day too late Fitzroy told us the day before that Munn was coming and we straightened up Adjourned.

It seems an error crept into last night's report in reference to the amount paid to McKee in the presence of Fitzroy. The amount testified was $408 instead of $4000, and the place was the Supervisor's office, not the Globe office

The prosecution rested its case this afternoon and the defence opened. Gen. Sherman, Major Rainwater, of the Police Commissioners, Congressman W H. Hague, W. W Sanford a merchant, J A Scudder, President of the Memphis and St Louis Packet Co; Capt. Isaac Jones, Daniel Abel and others testified to McDonald's good character in this community some of them having known him from fifteen to twenty-five years, but on cross-examination they all said they never heard his character discussed until lately and but few of them ever had business dealings with him

MASSACHUSETTS.

It Might Have Been.

BOSTON, Nov 19. The reported death of B. F. Butler is false. His Frank Butler of Salem, who is referred to; no relation to the General

THE WEATHER.

SIGNAL DEPT, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D C, Nov 20 (A. M.)

Probabilies

For New England, rising barometer, West to North winds, cooler and partially cloudy weather

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

The operator at Evanston, Wyommia, reports snow 24 feet deep, and still snowing.

Gov. Tilden has respited Edward Thomas, the negro murderer, until Jan 29 1876 He was to be executed Dec 10th.

The population of Massachusetts as finally corrected at the census bureau is 1,651 912

Three nickel counterfeiters were arrested in Trenton, Ohio, Thursday, and a bushel of new made counterfeits captured.

Well informed cotton men say the present cotton crop in Alabama if it can be gathered, will be the largest since the war.

Vice-President Wilson's condition shows no material change. He slept well during last night. He expects to be able to ride out to-day.

The steamer Hartford which was put in commission at New York, will be ordered to relieve the Worcester as flagship of the North Atlantic squadron.

Edward McCraw, foreman of a gang in the Hoosac tunnel at North Adams, Mass., was crushed to death Thursday night while shacking cars

Five laborers, working in a trench for water pipe at Somerville, Mass, were buried Friday morning by a land slide. Three of the men were badly injured.

Moody delivered his farewell discourse in Brooklyn last night to a crowded audience. Moody & Sankey will go to Philadelphia, where they begin a series of meetings Sunday.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in a letter to Col. Young, Collector of the Fourth District of North Carolina, informs him that the Department does not approve of nepotism, and that certain dismissals must be made Daniel Flagg, a well-known character about Concord, N H., died Thursday night in a store where he was in the habit of sleeping nights He was 82 years old and a sort of hermit. One of his peculiarities was going barefooted in all seasons of the year.

Orders have been transmitted from the Navy Department to the Commandant at the Philadelphia Navy Yard to hurry along the completion and equipment of the new sloops-of-war lying in the Delaware, and to put a number of monitors in readiness for service

Gen Walker Superintendent of the ninth census, has submitted his report to the Secretary of the Interior, in which he says enough is already known of the results to indicate quite clearly that the progress of our population has received a temporary check.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A New Theory Which Should Receive The Given and the Real Reason for this Advice.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. A London special says the opinion there is very pronounced that the return of the Prince of Wales has been determined upon. It is stated that the Cabinet here telegraphed him, advising his return home. Although it is said the cholera will be given as the reason for this return, the real reason is the unsatisfactory attitude of the native Princes. Not a single reception was proffered by any one there in the Madras and Bengal presidencies. All the [illegible] have been by the English are, there is no question but [illegible] the [illegible] view [illegible] of [illegible] matters.

SPAIN.

Concepts of the Carlists Pretender from Carlist Headquarters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. A London special gives the comments of the Carlist [illegible] on the Don Carlos letter [illegible] character. The Carlists [illegible]

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

(Notices for this department must be in by 9 o'clock A. M. on Friday to insure insertion.)

Morning services at 10½ o'clock; afternoon services at 3 o'clock.

FIRST PARISH CONGREGATIONAL.—Broadway, corner State St. Pulpit supplied by Prof. W. R. Dimmock. Preaching at 10½ A. M. and 7 P. M. Sunday School at 12 M. Gospel meeting at 3 P. M. Prayer meeting at 7 P. M. on Friday. Seats free.

HAMMOND ST. CONGREGATIONAL.—Hammond St., corner Bangor St., Rev. E. Fay Pastor. Services at 10½ A. M. and 7½ P. M.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL.—French St., near State; Rev. Geo. C. Riehl, Pastor. Services at 10½ A. M. and 7½ P. M. Sabbath School Anniversary to-morrow evening. Address by Rev. Mr Parsytho of Bucksport.

FIRST BAPTIST.—Harlow St., corner Center; Rev F. T. Hazelwood, Pastor. No services in the afternoon except on the first Sunday in each month, when the Lord's Supper will be observed.

SECOND BAPTIST.—Columbia Street, Rev N. Butler, D. D., Pastor. This is a Free House and the seats are open to all.

FIRST FREE BAPTIST.—Essex St. near State, Rev. James Boyd, Pastor. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. Sabbath School immediately following at 11.45 Evening services at 7. Free sittings and a free and cordial welcome is extended to all our gatherings. Come and bring others with you

FIRST METHODIST.—corner Pine and Somerset Sts., Rev Cyrus Sunn D. D., pastor Sermon at 10½ A. M. followed by Sunday School. Prayer meeting at 7 P. M.

UNION ST. METHODIST EPISCOPAL.—Union St. corner Clifton; Rev. L. Bevan Fuller, Pastor. Preaching in forenoon Sunday School at close of forenoon service. Prayer meeting at ¾ in the evening.

INDEPENDENT CONGREGATIONAL.—(Unitarian) Union St., corner Main; Rev. Arthur May Knapp, Pastor Rev. Clay McNaughtey will officiate to-morrow.

UNIVERSALIST.—Park St., near Center. Rev E. S. Preble, Pastor Sunday School at 10½ A. M. Regular service at 7½ P. M.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL.—French St. This church is adjourned by voluntary offering, and the seats are free to all

ST. JOHN'S ROMAN CATHOLIC.—York St Rev Edward McGovern, Pastor

ST. MARY'S ROMAN CATHOLIC.—Center St., corner First, Rev J. W Murphy, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.—West Bangor, Allen street School House. Rev J T Hoben, Pastor, services forenoon and afternoon Sabbath School at close of afternoon service

EAST BANGOR.—Rev J. G. Mason Services at 10½ A M, followed by Sabbath School

WEST BANGOR CHAPEL.—Preaching in the afternoon Sabbath School at 2 P M. Prayer meeting in the evening, also Friday evening.

SIGNAL ARSENAL.—Cannon Hall, Preaching every Sunday P. M., as the usual hour

CITY MISSIONARY.—Rev O. G. Porter, Residence No 34 Boynton Street.

HILLSIDE SCHOOL HOUSE.—Sabbath School at 2 P M

LESLIE ST SCHOOL-HOUSE.—Preaching at 2 P M., week day meeting at 7 P M

BREWER.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.—Pulpit supplied by Prof L. L. Palmer, of the Theological Seminary.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL.—at Brewer Village pulpit supplied by Rev Chas. H Woodcock. Sabbath School at 10½ A M. Preaching at 2½ P M

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.—Main St., Rev. J. A. L. Bach, Pastor. Sunday School at 10½ A. M. Sermon at 7 P M. Prayer meeting at 7 P. M. Sunday School concert on first Sabbath evening of each month

EDDINGTON BEND

METHODIST.—Sermon at 10½ A M, Sunday School at close of services

HAMPDEN.

CONGREGATIONAL.—Rev. Harris Pond, Pastor Services at 10½ A. M and 3 P. M.

METHODIST.—Rev O B. Dunn, Pastor Services afternoon and evening, at West Hampden in forenoon

ORONO

ST JOHN'S PARISH.—Rev. Henry Shepard, Pastor Services at usual hour in the forenoon, followed by Sabbath School.

CONGREGATIONAL.—Rev Hollington St. Cross Pastor services morning and evening.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.—Rev G H Palmer, Pastor Services in the forenoon.

ST MARY'S ROMAN CATHOLIC.—Rev John Dudy, Pastor, at Josselyn's, at Oldtown, officiates alternately at the two churches

BRADLEY.

STRICT 1st ASSOCIATION. Meetings at Union Hall, Sunday, Jan 16, and every forenoon, Sunday for the year following, at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M. Children's Progressive Lyceum at 1½ P. M.

OLDTOWN

CONGREGATIONAL. Services at 2½ and 7 o'clock. P M Sabbath School at 11 A. M.

DANTERT.—Rev George M. Preston, Pastor. Sabbath School at 2½ A M, Preaching at 3½ and 7 P M

ST JAMES' EPISCOPAL.—James Davies, M. A., Rector in charge. Holy Communion at 10 45 A. M, Sabbath School, 2 P M, evening service at 3 P M

METHODIST EPISCOPAL. Services 2½ and 7 P M.

UNIVERSALIST. Sabbath School at 10½ A M Preaching at 2½ P M

ST JOSEPH'S CATHOLIC.—Rev John Duddy, Pastor Services at 10½ A. M.

WESTERPORT

METHODIST EPISCOPAL, Main Street.—Rev T B Tupper, Pastor Services at 10½ A M and 7½ P M

CONGRESS STREET.—Rev G. W Jones, Pastor Services at 10½ A. M. and 7½ P M

WINN

ST. THOMAS CHURCH.—Rev James Davies, M A Pastor Morning services at 10½, Sabbath School at 2½ Evening service at 7

LINCOLN

METHODIST CHURCH Rev J. A Morelen, Pastor Sermon at 2½ o'clock P M, Prayer meeting at 6½ P M.

CONGREGATIONAL Rev James H Crosby, Sabbath School at 10 45 A M Services at 2½ and 6½ P M

CARMEL.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.—Preaching every two weeks, at 10 30 A M Sabbath School immediately after the service Social meeting at 7 P M. N E Sabbath School and Social service every Sabbath.

---

There will be a social dance at City Hall this evening.

Four vessels, laden with coal, arrived on last evening's tow.

The Union-st. Methodist vestry has been thoroughly repaired.

The regular Thanksgiving contributions will be taken in the churches to-morrow

The closing exercises in the high and select schools to-day will consist of readings, declamations, etc.

Nearly half of the last cargo of waterpipes will be laid by the close of this afternoon.

The sale of single tickets to Hon. Carl Schurz's lecture will open Monday morning.

Levi L. Lincoln, Esq., the popular General Agent of the Boston & Maine Railroad, was in the city yesterday.

The competitive examination of applicants for the West Point Cadetship for this District, occurs next Wednesday.

The river is rapidly clearing itself of ice. Navigation is not interfered with at all, as there were a large number of arrivals yesterday.

W. T Pearson, Esq., is to handsomely fit up the corner store in the depot block, on Exchange street, and will use it as an office.

The Kennebec Journal notes that: "The State College at Orono at present leads all the Colleges in the State in the number of its students."

The sidewalks were very slippery yesterday. Great precaution should be exercised at this season to keep the sidewalks well covered with gravel.

We are indebted to T. H. Cushing, Esq., for a copy of the Montreal Weekly Witness, containing a detailed and illustrated account of the Guilbord burial.

Mr. James Norris, Surveyor General of lumber, was suddenly taken with a shock of paralysis late yesterday afternoon, and his left side was completely paralyzed.

The barque Chief, of Boston, is off the mouth of the river, in ballast, waiting to be towed to this port, where she will be loaded by T. J. Stewart, with box shooks.

James Collins, last spring laborer on the dam, has not yet been seen for the past three days, and it is known of his whereabouts. An attempt has been made to find him, but without success.

The Fire Department turned out last evening in response to an alarm from what sounded about half-past seven. The alarm was caused by the burning out of a chimney in Mr. [illegible]

They tried to say "Aren't you afraid I'll bust the [illegible]" but they [illegible] I would [illegible] that the [illegible] sight so to think of the pleasure it would cause him to witness the drawing of [illegible]

[illegible] Jr., Esq., of Los Angeles, [illegible] Bulletin, has been appointed [illegible] Commissioner of Deeds for the State of California, in and for the City of Bangor.

The Boston Journal says: "It is reported in Washington that the report of [illegible] Commissioner of Internal Revenue, [illegible] Secretary of the Treasury, [illegible] Revenue Department, [illegible] Commissioner [illegible] Revenue [illegible] Department [illegible] Commissioner [illegible] Revenue [illegible] Department [illegible] Commissioner [illegible] Revenue [illegible] Department

TWENTY YEARS OF WAITING.

[From the Galaxy.]

When I hear people talking about romance having died a natural death in this busy nineteenth century, and how prosaic and unromantic our lives have become, I always think of my old friend Phil Rodent. I don't think I ever heard a story quite like his. Twenty years of a man's life spent in waiting and waiting is the hardest kind of work.

The other day he came into my study, looking worn and anxious. "What is the matter Phil?" I asked as he threw himself into an easy chair.

"Why, that Johnson woman is dead. No need of her dying any more than you or me. And her husband just comes home—as fine a lad as ever stepped. Nice news to meet a man with—'Here's your wife dead now, what's to be done with the children?' His vessel was wrecked, you know; and though she heard the crew was picked up, that foolish woman was bound to have him drowned. I tried my best to keep her alive, but she just fretted herself into her grave.

"All have not your patience, Phil," I said gravely.

He sat thinking for some minutes, while that calm resolved look came into his face that I so loved to see there. The lines of his forehead smoothed themselves away. We often sat dumb, each thinking his own thoughts. I could guess what Phil's were. I knew I rightly that brought that light of rest and strength.

What a grand, grave face my friend had. It—powerful frame born very lightly the burden of its three score years. His step was quick and elastic, and his hand—soft and white as a woman's yet with a grip like steel—was as firm and steady as it had well been.

Presently he rose and began drawing or, I believe, "I must go now Archie; my patients will be very impatient if the morning I came. You have done me good, or taught me how to do myself good, which is better, and Archie, if you think the story of my life will help some other life that is weary of living, tell it. Archie, man tell them though the way be long, the 'rest that remaineth' is at its close."

So I had said my sermon and began my task of love. Need I say my sermon was laid aside for what nobler sermon can there be than a good man's life.

I must ask your patience while I go back a long way to begin my story properly. How like picture galleries seem the years as we look back upon them. Here an open meadow, with the sunlight sleeping warm and bright upon it; there an old oak by some, on which the long light of broken crash and thunder, the only hint of life a tiny sail far out to sea; and so we go on after we see more as I more plainly feel as to where the real interest of the pictures—the light must come from above.

One evening about ten years ago I was sitting in my cheerless, unfurnished hotel parlor when a letter was handed to me bearing the postmark of a remote little village among the Connecticut hills. I had been there some long years ago, and as I took the letter a waft from the breezy hills and fragrant woods swept over my remembrance, causing again the thrill of pleasure with which I first welcomed them.

I opened my letter the writing was familiar. I glance at the signature. It was that of my old college friend, Phil Rodent.

I shut my eyes and then thought a while. The tale of misery was too strong for me. I had to let it float away. Twenty-six years before Phil and I had clasped hands over our farewell, to finish his medical education abroad. I to enter the bloom of seminary. And now here was an old man with failing health, and before the physician of this quiet little village where he had once sailed away our summer vacations with many a jest at the old-time ways and customs of its primitive inhabitants. Are lives what they ever hope to be? How many years grow dim with watching for the that never breaks. Oh, may we still hope dawn that in the great here-after blighted buds may swell and blossom into the perfect flower.

"I have heard of you my friend," wrote Phil. "You are out of health and spirits. Come to me, and we will cheer you up. I have a room ready for you in my bachelor's hall, and we need you sorely. Our minister's good old aunt has gone to her well-earned rest, and we have a sleepless flock. We have had a young man preaching for us, talented and good-intentioned, but he soared among the clouds too much for us, our heads grew dizzy watching his aerial flight, so we shut him up in a cage for that, thinking that as he seemed to know the way, he would come there sometime to find a human guide. But that is not what we want. We want to be baptized and married and buried in the good old way. Come and help us in this serious work. Say when you will come, and Ned (my horse) and I will meet you at the station."

Kind and hearty as ever. "If my man can give me strength and happiness, it is Phil Rodent," I said to myself.

Early in the next week the train left me at the quiet station, little different from what I remembered it, and no sooner had I stepped upon the platform than a cheery voice saluted, "We come, old fellow, time is up," and Phil clasped my hand in both of his. I saw the brakeman smile as we walked off together.

Phil's arm thrown across my shoulder—to his friends of his—but I thanked God in my heart for this strong faithful friend, who had kept the memory of our boyish days still fresh and green amid the rust of age and the chilling winds of change and decay.

One fine September morning I was sitting in front of the old farm and little church, in the village I went to housekeeping. Phil and I were busy all one week getting my home ready, and then I wrote to Abby. Was poor old Phil right enough to insist on bringing a bride home to keep house for me. Many years ago she had buried his hopes of happiness. A the greatest sorrow he had had. Poor Phil, he had been rather a cheerless one. We had two brothers married, but though "Aunt Abby" was very useful in children's nursery, we said it was only a place she could call her "home," so now we two, the odd ones in the family, planned to end our days together. Phil and I were much alone together, and one evening in the beginning of December we were sitting in his sanctum smoking a quiet pipe together, and he was telling me of some improvements he meant to make on his place when I said suddenly, "What a pity it's you haven't made some woman happy with the gift of your hand and pleasant home, with all its comforts of fame and position." Phil gulled his chair a cloud of smoke into the air, and sat watching the soft rings in silence for some minutes, then he said quietly, "I have been waiting these twenty years, Archie, hoping for my Abby, and I still believe that she will come, though it is a long time, a long time, the repeat inwardly.

"Was my friend dreaming? I said nothing, but sat waiting some further enlightenment.

"You never knew my brother Paul, did you Archie? Phil commenced in his dreamy quiet voice. "Poor fellow, he met with an accident when a child which lamed him for life. When he was—let me see—about twenty years, he was eight years younger than myself I took him to Germany to consult a famous physician, in whose skill I had great faith. Just before our sailing three passengers came on board, who attracted my attention and interest from the first. One was a man between forty and fifty, handsome and stylish-looking, but with an unpleasant air of bravado about it and a forward way of watching people, which impressed me very unfavorably. He was followed by a man some years younger than himself, on whose arm leaned a young and very pretty lady. As they passed into the cabin many eyes were turned upon them. The men were talking wholly in French, and paying little or no attention to their silent companion.

"Paul and his meals brought up on deck and at dinner I found I was seated next the young lady who had so excited my interest that morning. I never asked you, Archie, whether you cared to hear this long story; my heart was so full of it to-night that I began almost without thinking. If I weary you, you will try to pardon me.

"Well, that night many glances of admiration were cast upon my neighbor, glances not unmingled with pity; the pale, beautiful face was so sad, and the large brown eyes seemed heavy with unshed tears. As she raised her hand I saw she wore a wedding ring. The elder of the two gentlemen was evidently her father, the likeness between them was so strong, and the other, I became convinced, was her husband, although he seemed strangely indifferent to her comfort or convenience. As we left the table she dropped her handkerchief, and when she raised her eyes to mine in thanking me for restoring it, whether she saw the interest and sympathy I felt revealed in my face I could not tell, but a slight blush dinged her cheek as she turned away.

"The next morning when I returned from a search for Paul's books and rug, I found her seated beside him. She apologized very sweetly for her "intrusion," then said, with a glance at her husband, who was leaning on the back of her chair, "Mr. Lambert had some books which he thought your brother might like to see."

"Mr. Lambert acknowledged my thanks with a careless bow, saying, with a scarcely perceptible sneer in his voice, as he strolled away, 'My wife is devoted to invalids.'

"Mrs. Lambert glanced up to me with a troubled look, as if she feared my feeling offended; but as I endeavored by my manners to reassure her, she was soon chatting quite cheerfully to Paul, who seemed to have taken one of his violent fancies to her at once.

"After that not a day passed that did not find her seated on the deck, trying to amuse and interest my poor boy, who used to lie on his cushions with his pale cheek resting in his hand, and his large blue eyes fastened on her eloquent face with a look of the most intense admiration and love. Once she apologized to me for usurping my place in performing some little office for Paul which I had been accustomed to render, saying with a pathetic laughing in her voice, 'It is so sweet to me to have some one who will let me love and care for him; and my Paul, accustomed to petting all his life, soon demanded the most exclusive attention from Kathleen, as he used to call her. She would often come on deck looking pale and troubled; but a few minutes beside Paul's couch and her face would clear, her eyes would grow soft with womanly tenderness, and the smile that played upon her lips was all the sweeter for the tears that had preceded it. Her two companions seemed to leave her almost entirely to herself, and before the voyage was over I strongly suspected that in the interminable games of cards always going on in their cabin, a good deal of money belonging to some of the other passengers passed into their hands, and yet good company and good wines made their society very attractive. They were both very gentlemanly in their manners, and Mr. Lambert was especially witty in conversation, though his wit was of the sarcastic kind that wounds oftener than it pleases. Many a time have I seen Kathleen's cheeks flush and her eyes fill with tears, at some careless sneer from this man who had sworn to love and cherish her, and then, Archie, I confess I had to clench my hands to keep from collaring him and pitching him over the rail. The mystery of that union I never fathomed; he seemed utterly indifferent to her, and that she did not love him I was certain; that she feared him I was almost equally sure. Her father seemed kinder, and for him she evidently entertained great affection. One day he joined our little party, saying he had his hand upon his daughter. 'Trying to replace the poor little Parisian, Kathleen? Well, that's right. Then he added, half sad, half musingly, 'I wonder if the good deeds of an old man can blot out the sins of the evil ones?' and that pale boy, Kathie, he looks as familiar with the ways of angels.'

"Kathleen bent her head with a vivid blush, but Paul reached up and took her hand, saying, with his own bright smile, 'I have been lately, sir.'

"I believe you, my boy,' her father said, hastily, 'may it do more good than it has done me.' Then he turned away, and I followed, for I thought Kathleen would rather be alone with Paul for a time.

"When I reached Paul's side Paul was saying, 'Do you know, Kathleen, with all your dear little motherly ways, I am four years older than you?'

"Years, perhaps, but oh, Paul, not in sorrow. No,' she continued, in answer to his reproachful look, 'how gladly would I bear your sorrow, heavy though it is, no weary can tell.'

"Then I withdrew as gently as I had come, knowing that my gentle brother could comfort her better than I could. One day Paul spoke of our destination, a German watering place. Her face lighted up. 'We are going there, too, at least I think so; I have heard them mention it.' Then stopped abruptly, and changed the subject to other of his overflow of joy.

"Paul used to be down and talk to her for hours after I took him down stairs, and one night when he had been telling me how he regretted Kathleen's lips had kept secret the misery any child might read in her face, he looked suddenly at me with a penetrating, startled glance. 'Poor Phil.' 'Poor Kathleen!' I answered, wondering at his word.

"When we reached Liverpool Mr. Lambert suddenly decided to go first to Paris, so Paul and I went on alone. We did not speak much of Kathleen now, but my boy pined sadly, and his health began to fail. I knew he longed daily for a sight of her sweet face, a touch of her cool, soft hand. 'My little sister,' I heard him say one when he thought he was alone, 'if you knew that was dying, I think you would come to him.'

"His words wrung my heart with a terrible pain and fear. If I had only known Kathleen's address I would have written to her, but I had no means of learning it. Paul said nothing to me about his wish to see her, but when the doctor advised change of air he asked me if I had thought of Baden.

"'Yes, Paul, do you think—

"'I think Kathleen may be there,' he said, quickly. And he was right. Two days after our arrival a carriage passed by in the street. Changing only, I saw Kathleen leaning pale and sad-looking among the cushions. As she caught sight of me she started violently; then stopping her carriage she made me a sign to enter without ceremony. The street was crowded, so I obeyed her. 'How is Paul?' she asked anxiously, as I seated myself beside her. 'When I told her how dear she was to him, called she said eagerly, 'will you take me to him? I have so longed to see him again.'

"'Now?' I questioned.

"'Yes. No one knows where I go' and the tears rushed to her eyes.

"'You are ill, I fear,' I said gently. 'You are much paler than you were at sea. I am a physician, you know, so you must let me prescribe for you.'

"She smiled grateful. 'I have been ill, but I am better now I think I am getting selfish and lazy, and do not exert myself enough to walk with each other, and one evening in the beginning of December we were sitting in his sanctum smoking a quiet pipe together, and he was telling me of some improvements he meant to make on his place when I said suddenly, 'What a pity it's you haven't made some woman happy with the gift of your hand and pleasant home, with all its comforts of fame and position.' Phil gulled his chair a cloud of smoke into the air, and sat watching the soft rings in silence for some minutes, then he said quietly, 'I have been waiting these twenty years, Archie, hoping for my Abby, and I still believe that she will come, though it is a long time, a long time, the repeat inwardly.

"Was my friend dreaming? I said nothing, but sat waiting some further enlightenment.

"'You never knew my brother Paul, did you Archie? Phil commenced in his dreamy quiet voice. "Poor fellow, he met with an accident when a child which lamed him for life. When he was—let me see—about twenty years, he was eight years younger than myself I took him to Germany to consult a famous physician, in whose skill I had great faith. Just before our sailing three passengers came on board, who attracted my attention and interest from the first. One was a man between forty and fifty, handsome and stylish-looking, but with an unpleasant air of bravado about it and a forward way of watching people, which impressed me very unfavorably. He was followed by a man some years younger than himself, on whose arm leaned a young and very pretty lady. As they passed into the cabin many eyes were turned upon them. The men were talking wholly in French, and paying little or no attention to their silent companion.

"Paul and his meals brought up on deck and at dinner I found I was seated next the young lady who had so excited my interest that morning. I never asked you, Archie, whether you cared to hear this long story; my heart was so full of it to-night that I began almost without thinking. If I weary you, you will try to pardon me.

"Well, that night many glances of admiration were cast upon my neighbor, glances not unmingled with pity; the pale, beautiful face was so sad, and the large brown eyes seemed heavy with unshed tears. As she raised her hand I saw she wore a wedding ring. The elder of the two gentlemen was evidently her father, the likeness between them was so strong, and the other, I became convinced, was her husband, although he seemed strangely indifferent to her comfort or convenience. As we left the table she dropped her handkerchief, and when she raised her eyes to mine in thanking me for restoring it, whether she saw the interest and sympathy in my face she could not tell, but a slight blush dinged her cheek as she turned away.

"The next morning when I returned from a search for Paul's books and rug, I found her seated beside him. She apologized very sweetly for her "intrusion," then said, with a glance at her husband, who was leaning on the back of her chair, "Mr. Lambert had some books which he thought your brother might like to see."

"Mr. Lambert acknowledged my thanks with a careless bow, saying, with a scarcely perceptible sneer in his voice, as he strolled away, 'My wife is devoted to invalids.'

"Mrs. Lambert glanced up to me with a troubled look, as if she feared my feeling offended; but as I endeavored by my manners to reassure her, she was soon chatting quite cheerfully to Paul, who seemed to have taken one of his violent fancies to her at once.

"After that not a day passed that did not find her seated on the deck, trying to amuse and interest my poor boy, who used to lie on his cushions with his pale cheek resting in his hand, and his large blue eyes fastened on her eloquent face with a look of the most intense admiration and love. Once she apologized to me for usurping my place in performing some little office for Paul which I had been accustomed to render, saying with a pathetic laughing in her voice, 'It is so sweet to me to have some one who will let me love and care for him; and my Paul, accustomed to petting all his life, soon demanded the most exclusive attention from Kathleen, as he used to call her. She would often come on deck looking pale and troubled; but a few minutes beside Paul's couch and her face would clear, her eyes would grow soft with womanly tenderness, and the smile that played upon her lips was all the sweeter for the tears that had preceded it. Her two companions seemed to leave her almost entirely to herself, and before the voyage was over I strongly suspected that in the interminable games of cards always going on in their cabin, a good deal of money belonging to some of the other passengers passed into their hands, and yet good company and good wines made their society very attractive. They were both very gentlemanly in their manners, and Mr. Lambert was especially witty in conversation, though his wit was of the sarcastic kind that wounds oftener than it pleases. Many a time have I seen Kathleen's cheeks flush and her eyes fill with tears, at some careless sneer from this man who had sworn to love and cherish her, and then, Archie, I confess I had to clench my hands to keep from collaring him and pitching him over the rail. The mystery of that union I never fathomed; he seemed utterly indifferent to her, and that she did not love him I was certain; that she feared him I was almost equally sure. Her father seemed kinder, and for him she evidently entertained great affection. One day he joined our little party, saying he had his hand upon his daughter. 'Trying to replace the poor little Parisian, Kathleen? Well, that's right. Then he added, half sad, half musingly, 'I wonder if the good deeds of an old man can blot out the sins of the evil ones?' and that pale boy, Kathie, he looks as familiar with the ways of angels.'

"Kathleen bent her head with a vivid blush, but Paul reached up and took her hand, saying, with his own bright smile, 'I have been lately, sir.'

"'I believe you, my boy,' her father said, hastily, 'may it do more good than it has done me.' Then he turned away, and I followed, for I thought Kathleen would rather be alone with Paul for a time.

"When I reached Paul's side Paul was saying, 'Do you know, Kathleen, with all your dear little motherly ways, I am four years older than you?'

"'